

I oppose loosening the rules designed to promote and protect diversity of media ownership. These rules were adopted to ensure that the public would receive a diverse range of viewpoints from the media, and not simply the opinions of a handful of media conglomerates. The cable ownership cap is a crucial element of our democratic media, and it should not be weakened.

Currently, Canada's media is mostly run by a singular media group. Now, there are lots of reactions to a pat News Group source that doesn't offer other points of view. Civil unrest is created by a lack of equal voices and education in communications to all interested parties. Without it there will be no change necessary for a changing world. Without the current rules only monied interests and merchants will rule Media. Exactly what the Senators of Rome warned Ceaser about.
